Onlookers examine the damage caused to Highway 121 Tuesday evening, when a beaver dam, located some distance from the road gave way. The surging water undermined the roadway and caused the paved surface to collapse. The Highway is expected to be closed for several days while repair crews assess the damage and begin the clean-up. See second photo on page 3.

Highway 121 washed away as beaver dam gives out

Highway 121, some 12 kilometres south of Minden, was buried under a tidal wave Tuesday evening as a beaver dam located west of the highway gave out.

The surging force of the water ripped up close to 300 feet of one lane of the highway and seriously undermined the remaining portion resulting in the closing of the route. The force of the initial wave threw large rocks onto the road surface and sent chunks of tarmac churning along with the water.

According to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, whose house was initially surrounded by the water, the dam gave out about seven o'clock. "The first thing I noticed was the smell of the water," Mrs. Anderson commented, "then I heard a strange noise and looked out of the window." By then the water was surging across the road and flowing past both sides of their home to a ravine behind.

A portion of their driveway was washed away by the force of the water and debris was littered on the lawn. Their home and a second residence nearby appeared to escape any serious damage as they are located on a slight rise.

Mr. Anderson noted that this was the second time a beaver dam had given out and washed away a section of the highway in that location. "The first time it happened was 12 years ago, but there wasn't as much water or damage to the roadway as there was this time," he commented.

The rushing water quickly undermined the highway base leaving a gaping trench down the west side of the road. Sections of the shoulder on the east side of the road were also eroded by the force of the water.

The highway will likely be closed for several days while repair crews attempt to rebuild the damage.

Youth charged with murder

A 20 year old resident of a Highland Grove group home has been charged with first degree murder following the discovery of a body in a shallow grave near the home.

Collin Donald MacKenzie, 20, was charged after police conducted an extensive search for Linda Connie Love, 34, who was reported missing from Highlands Crossroads Group Home at 7 p.m. July 20. Police searched the area that evening and continued Saturday using a dog. The body of the deceased was found shortly before noon Saturday buried about 150 metres from the home.

An autopsy revealed that the victim had died of asphyxiation.

MacKenzie is expected to appear in court July 30.

The matter is being investigated by Constable S.E. Thibadeau and Sergeant L.B. Welton, both of the Apsley detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Council questions Chamber's record

The members of the Haliburton County Council want to know why the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce has not carried out certain services and projects that were approved and financed by the Council.

Council endoresed a resolution requesting information from the Board of Directors of the Chamber following a report from the council's representatives on the Board, Lutterworth Reeve Ron Gambell and Stanhope Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer.

Gambell criticized the Board members for their failure to carry out repairs to the Chamber of Commerce office and sign located on the Minden bypass.

He noted that the directors cannot agree on what measures should be taken to repair the building and added, "There are too many powerful people in the Chamber who can talk, but don't listen."

Elgin Stouffer expressed his own dissatisfaction noting, "There are twelve very individualistic directors on the Board and things don't get done." He questioned whether or not he should remain on the Board since he felt that his opinions were not being heard.

Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey questioned why there was no mention of Haliburton County in a promotional pamphlet distributed in Toronto by the Central Ontario Travel Association and why mistakes had not been corrected in the 1984 Haliburton Highlands Directory.

Gambell stated that he could not answer the questions adding "They tell you one thing at a meeting then later they tell you something else."

Bicroft Reeve Bill Howe suggested that the $60,000 that County contributes to the Chamber should be "targetted for certain areas." and that council should find out if that money was being spent in those areas.

Gambell commented that the Chamber should be able to conduct its own affairs without having to be supervised by Council. He added "They hire a manager but they won't let her manage, from what I understand."

When contacted by The Times on Tuesday, Ken Langdon, President of the Chamber stated that the Board would respond to the concerns of council. "I am not overly concerned about council's request," he said. He pointed out that a contract had been let for the construction of a new sign and noted that efforts have been made to improve the Chamber office. "A lot of people have put time into fixing up the building," he said. Noting that the building has not received the highest priority from the Board, he pointed out that it was the concensus of the board that funds should be spent on promotion rather than any major work on the office.

Langdon said that he realized that a $70,000 to $80,000 building with a new office would be a credit to the county but emphasised that the Chamber of Commerce cannot afford such an expense. Noting that there are less than 300 members in the Chamber he stated "I can't see funds coming out of the members."

Langdon disagreed with the comment that the board will not let Emily Skinner manage the Chamber properly. "She has never expressed that opinion to me," he said.

He agreed that the members of the board are individualistic. "They are bound to be individualistic. They are private businessmen running their own businesses" and added, "but we do agree eventually."

In commenting on the criticism that members say one thing at meetings then later say something else, he stated "I can only think of one case where the board changed its mind," noting that the Board members felt they had rushed their decision so they reconsidered.

Warden Lyle McKnight suggested that Stouffer and Gambell should submit a report to the county's

Campaign begins for CAT scanner fund

A campaign is now underway to raise funds to purchase and install a Computerized Tomography Scanner in the Peterborough Civic Hospital. The C.A.T. scanner will be available to patients in the four county region of Northumberland, Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton. The estimated cost of the scanner is $1,800,000.

Doctor Jim Callaghan, a radiologist at the Peterborough Civic Hospital, and four members of the fund raising committee attended the Haliburton County Council meeting on Thursday to provide information on the scanner and to seek support of the council for the campaign.

Doctor Callaghan noted that the scanner allows doctors to examine patients in many more ways than is possible with a conventional x-ray machine and that it gives doctors the opportunity to examine soft tissue. The scanner also provides much more detailed information than an x-ray machine. It combines a computer and a complex x-ray unit to detect minute differences in the density of body tissue and produces thin cross sectional views of the patient which are displayed on a television screen or recorded on film.

The machine is used to diagnose tumours of the brain, chest abdomen, pelvis and spine. It is also used to investigate head and spinal injuries, assess the cause of low back pain and manage strokes and dementia. The scanner reduces the need for more risky procedures such as arteriograms and myelograms.

The radiation received by the patient is comparable to that received during stomach x-rays.

Since the scanner can detect conditions and diseases in their early stages treatment can be carried out sooner.

Vic Henderson, chairman of the fund raising campaign noted that there are 36 machines now in use in the Province of Ontario and that funds to purchase the machines were acquired through fund raising drives.

The Ministry of Health has committed $150,000 a year towards the operating expenses of the scanner but will not contribute funds for the purchase of the machine.

The ministry allows scanners to be installed in hospitals serving a population of 300,000. Since the population of the four counties is close to this figure and exceeds that number during the summer, the ministry approved a request from the District Health council to install the scanner in the Peterborough Civic Hospital.

The health council is made up of representatives of all the hospitals in the four counties.

Henderson pointed out that presently patients from this area who require the services of the scanner must travel to Toronto, Oshawa or Kingston and that the long waiting period delays the patient's diagnosis.

When asked if less expensive machines were available Doctor Callaghan said that there were cheaper machines on the market but added "I agree $1,800,000 is a lot of money but it is a state of the art machine." He noted also that many doctors are receiving their training on the type of machine being considered for the Civic Hospital.

Henderson ended the delegation's presentation by stating that the committee is not seeking funds from the County Council at the present time but was asking for the personal support from the council members during the three year campaign.

Mountain Lake group backs pollution control program

Mountain Lake
Property Owners Assoc.

"You have one of the cleanest, healthiest lakes around. Why not keep it that way?"

So addressed Wayne Moore, Senior Environment Officer, Muskoka / Haliburton Region, Ministry of the Environment to the Mountain Lake Property Owners Association at their recent annual meeting at the Minden Cultural Centre. The members, by an overwhelming majority moved to adopt the Pollution Control Program as presented by Mr. Moore. Mountain Lake now joins an increasing number of lakes in the Haliburton area to choose this corrective system to evaluate and examine all cottage waste disposal systems and ensure satisfactory correction of all faulty systems.

Ed Pergolas, Deputy-Reeve representing Minden Council responded to questions of the official plan, particularly concerns of seasonal versus permanent residential status. He invited everyone to attend the open house to study for themselves the details of the Official Plan Draft with opportunity to question the consulting firm representatives. Mr. Pergolas also warned the Mountain Lake members of the serious waste disposal site capacity problem and possible solutions to extend the life of the present dump site.

The Environment Committee Chairman, Jim Russell was able to reinforce the results of water quality testing as maintaining a high standard and Mountain Lake is still resisting the acid rain contamination with its natural limestone buffering content. This active committee continues to monitor sport fishing, and water levels.

A new constitution was presented by Municipal Affairs Chairman Mike Mahoney. Members approved its adoption in anticipation of Incorporation of the Association.

Libby Hurrle, Membership Chairperson announced the winners of the Early Membership Draw: Geo. Brandt, Jim Russell, B. Brent, Carl Pfeiffer. Mountain Lake has been asked to participate in the Rotary Carnival Parade so watch out for the familiar blue t-shirts and hats.

Buffet dinner for two at the famous Hart Lodge on Mountain Lake is the prize to be awarded the person winning the photo contest at the annual regatta, August 5. Two major trophies will be awarded this year for the sailing and water competitions. Robert Hurrle, Regatta Chairman is organizing a great day of activities for all ages and John and Pat Bath will wrap up the festivities with their delicious beef barbeque at the Mountain Park Cottages.

Chamber program questioned management committee.

Gambell responded to the suggestion by questioning whether a report was necessary. "How much babysitting do we have to do?" he asked, adding, "Can't they run their own affairs with all those directors?"

When asked if the Chamber has any plans to upgrade the Chamber's office or construct new facilities, Gambell responded "Someone always has a different idea of what should be done, but nothing is accomplished."

Bill Howe stated "It is County Council's obligation to pass a resolution to get to to pass a resolution to get the Chamber to tell council what is going on."

The resolution was drawn up and passed resolving that County Council be provided with information from the Board of Directors of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce why certain projects and services which had been approved and financed by the County Council, were not completed.

Rocks, sand and mud are littered across the surface of Highway 121 where the major force of the water punched its way after being unleashed from a broken beaver dam. The flood eroded close to 300 feet of one lane of the highway, 12 kilometres south of Minden.

Gallery break-in

Thieves made off with an estimated $1800 worth of jewellery when they broke into the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton in the early morning hours of July 18. The break-in was discovered at 1:50 a.m. Wednesday morning.

The jewellery was part of a display at the gallery.

Police report that the burglar alarm system was not functioning when the break-in occurred. The system has since been repaired.

The matter is being investigated by Constable Al Bibby.

Back the CAT

Residents of Haliburton County are being asked to give their monetary support for the purchase of a CAT scanner to be located at Peterborough Civic Hospital. A delegation representing the fund raising organization and the medical community appeared before County Council last Wednesday to outline the basis for the appeal.

The purchase price of the machine is $1,800,000.

While the cost of the machine and its location somewhat distant from this county may create questions in some people's minds as to why the fund raising effort has been extended to the Highlands, we feel it deserves support.

There are a number of reasons Haliburton County has been included in the drive for funds and why residents should assist. The Ministy of Health, before approving the location of a CAT scanner in a particular hospital require a potential patient population of 300,000. The four counties of Haliburton, Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland are just shy of that figure, although as the fund raisers have pointed out, the population base swells far beyond that amount in the summer.

Peterborough may seem to be distant from our communities but the next closest CAT scanners are located in Oshawa and Toronto. With the large populations in these areas, the waiting time for non-emergency use of the machine can be quite lengthy. The Peterborough medical community also includes doctors who have the necessary basic training to operate the machine.

Last year the Haliburton Highlands focus on health care shifted. When the two county hospitals were taken under the administrative wing of St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough our bonds with that medical community were strengthened. While the CAT scanner will be located at Peterborough Civic Hospital patients from throughout the area will have access to the machine.

The CAT scanner takes the common X-ray one step further. Using computer technology it gives a finer, more detailed "picture" of the portion of the body being examined. While X-rays can only produce silhouettes of bones, the CAT scanner can be used to examine tissue densities making it a valuable tool in locating tumors and other abnormalties.

The CAT scanner is a valuable medical tool which can be used to assist doctors in treating patients. The drive to raise funds to purchase the machine deserves the whole hearted support of the county, including our summer population.

Extra billing hurts

- by John Eakins, MPP -

Social services in the area of health care and child welfare were at the forefront at Queen's Park in the last week.

Opposition Leader David Peterson issued a statement calling on Premier Davis to end the practice of extra billing in Ontario which is costing the province $4.4 million a month in forfeited transfer payments from Ottawa under the Canada Health Act.

Mr. Peterson said the policy of the Davis government is at odds with that of the federal Tory party, which supported passage of the Canada Health Act in the Commons last April. A principle reason for the Act was to end extra-billing across Canada, but the Davis government has been balking.

Meanwhile a child wrapped in red tape and a social worker wearing a straight-jacket appeared before the Ontario Legislative Committee on Social Development to demonstrate the problems posed by Bill 77 (Child and Family Services).

Douglas Barr, Executive Director of the Metro Toronto Children's Aid Society, said social workers and children throughout the province are suffering the consequences of the ill-founded change in the Child Welfare Act which gives "total, complete, final, absolute control over the societies" to the government.

Proposed changes in the Bill to introduce legal review procedures could clog the courts and create harmful delays in providing care for children, according to Mr. Barr.

In another development, Ontario Labour Minister Russell Ramsay extended

At one time, pollution problems were basically local. Now, they increasingly spill across regional and national boundaries, following air and watersheds, posing a political and technical challenge which leaves many individual citizens feeling helpless.

But the goal of cleaning air and water can and must be tackled on more than one level at a time. While we call for political action to clamp down on nasty emissions, we can also lighten the toxic load by lending support, even our muscle power, to less dramatic, but still effective measures such as planting more vegetation in our urban communities. More than half our total air pollution is found in urban centres where the vast majority of Canadians now live.

Plants remove airborne pollutants such as ozone, hydrocarbons and sulphur dioxide, primarily through tiny pores called stomates in the underside of their leaves. Those open and close with the expansion and contraction of guard cells during transpiration, restoration and photosynthesis. When open, these pores allow gasses and particles to enter the leaf, break up in the fluid between the cells and then recombine to be absorbed, in certain plants, as nutrients.

Altogether, the various plant surfaces, including bark, have been found to trap large quantities (40 - 50%) of gaseous and particulate pollutants. Trees are most effective. No wonder. A twelve metre tall white pine has about 1.5 square kilometres of surface area, while a single black oak leaf may have up to 800,000 stomates. Generally, the larger the plant or the higher its surface to volume ratio, the better it is at Labatt's Blue balloon pilot, Norm Overchuk, has many willing hands to assist him in inflating the hot air balloon at Wig-A-Mog Inn on Sunday.

Earlier this year a group of Haliburton residents decided to organize a day of activities to raise money for a Haliburton County Disaster Relief Fund.

The group felt that there was a need for such a fund to provide immediate assistance for families whose homes were destroyed by fire.

George and Elaine Schmid, owners of the Harvest Dining Lounge in Haliburton, were members of the fund raising committee. They asked a salesman who worked for Labatt's Brewery if it would be possible to have the Labatt's Blue balloon in Haliburton on July 22 to help in the fund raising efforts. The salesman said that he would enquire at the brewery's head office but the Schmids never received any confirmation so they assumed that the balloon would not be available.

In the meantime, the people who are setting up the fund decided to postpone the fund raising drive until later this year.

Consequently it came as something of a surprise to the Schmids when early Sunday morning, a shiny blue and white van pulled into the parking lot at the restaurant.

The driver, Norm Overchuk, introduced himself as the pilot of the Labatt's balloon and said that he and his balloon were ready to fly.

After he was told that the planned activities had been postponed, Overchuk suggested that the balloon could be flown in spite of the cancellation and asked if there was an area available where it could be inflated.

Elaine phoned Wig-A-Mog Inn and got permission from Joan Ward to use the field behind the Inn.

So on Sunday afternoon with help from guests at the Inn, the hot air balloon was inflated and sent aloft.

Since this was not meant to be a free flight, heavy ropes leading from the metal frame holding the basket were tied to the bumper of a truck and a steel post, allowing the balloon to rise to a height of about 40 feet. During the afternoon the balloon made half a dozen flights carrying two or three people aloft at a time.

Between flights, while waiting for the winds to subside, Norm talked about the balloon.

When inflated, the balloon is 65 feet high from the bottom of the wicker basket to the crown. The air inside the balloon is heated by a burner which is fuelled by propane. There is enough fuel on board to keep the balloon aloft for about 45 minutes.

Norm said that if the ropes were untied from the frame, the craft would rise to a height of 2000 feet. "When the balloon is aloft, there is no sensation of movement.

Balloon flies even though event delayed

It moves at the same speed as the wind, which means you can light a match and it will not be blown out." He added that the balloon can be flown in a light rain and cold temperatures. "When the cold air is heated by the burner, it expands very rapidly," he explained, adding that the craft would rise much more quickly in the winter than during hot weather.

He noted that when winds are calm, the balloon is very stable. "You can make it rise to a height of ten feet or so and it will stay there remaining perfectly still."

Unfortunately the wind was erratic on Sunday afternoon so the flights were discontinued after several hours.

So despite the fact that the fund raising effort was postponed, a number of people in the area, including Times reporter Mike Shirley, got a chance to watch the balloon being prepared for flight. The pictures on page 5 capture some of the excitement of the day.

pollution control. Small, rough edged leaves, lots of twigs and rough, furrowed bark make a difference. Naturally, evergreens are effective year round. Also, of course, not all trees can tolerate soil compaction, salt spray, drought and other urban wear and tear and still maintain metabolic rates and stomatal opening, which are necessary to fight pollution. And not all of them can turn pollutants into nutrients. In the Toronto area, for example, the best survivors are the Austrian pine, tree-of-heaven, Manitoba maple, Norway maple and gingko.

On a city-scale, vegetation should cover large areas and include a dense mix of evergreen and deciduous species of various heights and ages. Treed areas should lie downwind from pollution sources as well as perpendicular to prevailing winds, with top priority given to buffering facilities where outdoor work and play predominate. Each city requires its own strategy.

Of course, these same principles can be applied to your own personal property. This information and a whole lot more is available in a recent report funded by the York - Toronto Lawn Association. If interested, contact Professor Fidenzio Salvatori, Department of Landscape Architecture, University of Toronto, 230 College Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1A1.

Hustlers take three game lead in series

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers have won their first three games of the round robin playoffs.

Last Wednesday night, July 18, at home, the Hustlers slammed Lindsay Kent Tavern by the score of 9-3. Greg Newell and Rick Hartwick each hit home runs to lead Minden to the win. Scott Hammond and Pat Byrne each had two hits and Jack Snell was the winning pitcher. Erik Ellis has a homer for the losers.

On a hot, humid Sunday afternoon the Hustlers took to the road, travelling to Lindsay for a bif double header.

In the first game against Kent Tavern, Snell tossed a five hitter as the Hustlers squeezed out a win by the score of 2-1. This was a hard fought battle in the heat as the Hustlers themselves were held to eight hits by Ron Sharman in a losing cause. The Hustlers scored first in the third inning on a walk and a stolen base by Scott Hammond then a double by brother Bob (Hammond). Lindsay tied the score in the fourth on a triple by John Campbell and a single by Ed Bryans. The locals got the winning run in the fifth on a double by Pat Byrne and singles by Greg Newell and Rick Hartwick.

In the second game of the double header with Greg Newell on the mound the Hustlers whipped the Lindsay York Tavern 7-3.

After a shaky start in the first two innings when he gave up six hits (two runs) Greg settled down and pitched a fine game allowing only four hits over the last five innings to get the win for the locals. The Hustlers got two runs in the second and five in the third then coasted to the win. Danny Stinson took the loss for the tavern. Big guns at the bat for the Hustlers were Dave Hartwick with three singles and Barry Hammond with a triple and a double.

The next game for the Hustlers is this Wednesday night at Minden against York Tavern at 8:30 p.m. Let's get out and give these boys a boost for their fine effort over the year.

Rockcliffe Hustler player Greg Newell misses the first pitch, however, he connected on the second for a home run. Minden won the game against Lindsay Kent Tavern 9 to 3 and went on to sweep the three game series of the round-robin playoffs.

Kickers lose squeaker to Muskoka Sun

The Dixie Lee soccer squad proved a formidable force against a rough Bracebridge Sun team last Sunday afternoon.

Even though the team fielded only twelve men, and the heat proved unbearable, the Haliburton squad attacked with enthusiasm and much improved skill.

Spectators witnessed a see-saw battle during the first half, with both teams striking, but no resulting goals. A great offensive team effort provided midfielder Terry Browne with what might have proved a significant scoring opportunity had an illegal hand ball in the crease not thwarted the attack. Ivor Thompson, Steve Hogg and Andy Shapiera all played an impressive game.

The second half saw Al Jopling and Harvey Williams defend the Haliburton end with great skill, while both squads attacked vigorously. Haliburton held them off until, in the final minutes of the game, Bracebridge managed to edge the ball past our goalkeeper. The final score was 1 - 0.

Although suffering a loss, the team played with much fervor and spirit. Haliburton meets the Bracebridge Centennials Sunday, July 29 at 2:00 p.m. in Minden.

Come on out and support a great team!

Tom Elder, former Minden resident, placed third in the Formula Vee DAC event at Mosport this weekend. Tom, seen here driving car 76, second on the left, broke his own lap record of 1:51:1 by more than three seconds. Prior to last weekend Tom placed sixth in the points race for the 1984 Race Ontario Championships. The BARC's Ontario Grand Prix (June 30-July 1) in Shannonville proved to be a disappointing weekend for him. He was disqualified both Saturday and Sunday for mechanical problems. On Detroit's Mt. Clemens oval track July 12, Tom placed seventh out of a starting line-up of eighteen Formula Vee's. He will be racing in Detroit again this week and at Mt. Tremblant in Quebec in the month of August.

Hunters get tags

The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resouces has mailed out 44,000 bull and cow tags under its 1984 moose selective harvest.

"We have set a limit of 45,900 tags to maintain the program's conservation targets this year. In some Wildlife Management Units, there were fewer applications than tags available, and thus some tags were not distributed," Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope said recently.

"In 1982 ... the last hunt before we introduced the selective harvest ... there were 86,000 hunters licenced to take the moose of their choice. In 1983, 50,000 hunters received tags to hunt either a bull or cow moose. With the 44,000 tags issued this year, we are right on target in our efforts to reduce the moose harvest in Ontario."

Under the selective harvest, moose hunters who do not receive a bull or cow tag may harvest a calf.

Mr. Pope said that the draw was much smoother this year. Some hunters, however, did receive both a valid tag and a notice that they were unsuccessful in the draw. Hunters who received a tag and such a notice should simply disregard the notice.

About two-thirds of all hunters who applied received a tag in this year's draw. Applicants who do not receive a tag or a letter from the ministry were not successful in the draw, but should try again next year. Hunters who have questions about the moose program should contact the local office of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Did you know?

Did you know ... I was invited a couple of years ago to be a volunteer in the Haliburton County Information Centre. To me it has been a very worthwhile experience as I have learned so much about the County and the services available to the community.

It is so essential in an area of small communities to be able to help our people to find answers to questions. In our office we have access to almost any information you need and if not we'll soon get it.

We have brochures on many types of government - local, provincial, and federal programmes including housing, home repairs, welfare, child care, health, small businesses, etc. and can provide information on anything from Ontario Property Tax Grants to the schedule of events relating to the White Water Championships held each year in Minden.

I have visited over a dozen Information Centres in Canada, U.S.A. and England and have not found one any better to serve the needs of a community than the Haliburton County Information Centre.

When you have a problem, give us a call at 457-2733 or drop in to our office in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emmerson Lumber) in Haliburton. Our office is open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

We have the facilities to deal with almost every sort of problem that may arise for people with needs of all ages. So remember, you will never know the answer, until you ask the question.

Trent-Severn Waterway news

On Monday, July 16 the Haliburton Lakes had only declined some 0.30% from the 9th. This put the average percentage at about 89.9%, more than 8% above the 10-year average for the date. It was some 9% higher than on the same date in 1983 when the hot, dry weather had really begun to evaporate the surplus.

Near the end of this week, July 20, the losses to evaporation appeared to be increasing on Lake Simcoe - Couchiching, the Kawarthas and Rice Lake. Flows have been reduced again on the Otonabee to near minimum amounts so the heaviest flows of tributary water of this summer may be required next week.

Rainfall forecasts include only a few showers the next several days which are unlikely to change this trend.

West Guilford captures tournament

West Guilford remained undefeated in four games to clinch first place in the Haliburton County Ladies Softball Tournament held on the weekend. Eight teams took part in the tournament which was held at the Haliburton Ball Diamond.

West Guilford played two games on Saturday defeating Little Britain 8-4 and Bancroft 9-1.

On Sunday the tournament champions played Cameron twice, defeating them 7-1 in the morning then managing a 9-8 win in the last game of the tournament.

Cameron ended up in second place winning three out of five games.

The Minden Dixie Lee Seniors had an identical three and two record but placed third on the basis of their two losses to Cameron.

In Minden's first game on Friday night the team scored six runs in the sixth inning to pull ahead of the Haliburton Juniors. Minden won the game 13-9.

Barb Winn was named the Seniors' Most Valuable Player.

On Saturday Minden suffered their first defeat when they were shut out by Cameron. Catcher Jane Symons received the MVP award for her strong work behind the plate.

Liz Baker, shown crossing home plate and catcher Jane Symons were instrumental in the Minden Dixie Lee Seniors strong third place finish at the Haliburton County Ladies Softball tournament held on the weekend. Both players received MVP awards.

The Seniors bounced back Saturday night with a 6-5 win over Little Britain. Shortstop Lori Brown picked up the MVP award for Minden.

On Sunday Minden came from behind to tie the game against Bancroft. Minden scored in the extra inning to take the game 9-8. Liz Baker was named Minden's MVP.

After only a brief rest the Seniors took to the field for a return match against Cameron. Minden came on strong in the late innings but lost the game 6-4 to end up third overall in the tournament.

Catcher Jane Symons awaits the pitch.

an apology to women for remarks he made that layoffs of about 1,600 Simpsons employees were not as tragic as they might have been because many were "secondary wage earners."

Questioned by women's groups, including the National Action Committee on the Status of Women, Mr. Ramsay said, "at no time in my remarks did I refer to or even consider the male/female distinction."

He conceded it was natural to draw the conclusion that he was referring to women when he mentioned "secondary wage earners." He said: "I sincerely regret having made it."

National Action Committee President Chaviva Hosek claimed the apology is not enough, since Mr. Ramsay has the power to change the law to achieve equality for women in the workplace "and prove that working women are not considered a secondary labour force."

SPECIAL OCCASION PERMIT

Eakins says municipalities are missing compensation

by John Eakins, MPP

Ontario municipalities continue to suffer financial losses as a result of the provincial government's failure to provide compensation to local governments for the extra costs incurred as a result of gravel extraction operations in their municipalities.

As far back as December 1976, the Ontario Mineral Aggregate Working Party concluded in their report "A Policy for Mineral Aggregate Resource Management in Ontario" that "funding for such local municipalities from the industry are in fact inadequate" and recommended that an annual licence fee be established for all licenced gravel operators and that 50 per cent of that fee be paid to the local municipality in which the operation is located to cover "the real cost of the industry to the local municipalities."

The New Aggregate Act introduced in the Legislature by the Minister of Natural Resources in June 1979 would have provided for the establishment of a six cents per tonne licence fee for gravel operators, four cents of which would be paid to municipalities as compensation for road maintenance and other costs resulting from quarry operations.

However, this Legislation was withdrawn by the government prior to the 1981 provincial election and was never re-introduced.

Contary to the statement of the Minister of Natural Resources on March 4, 1982 that "I plan to introduce the New Act in the Legislature this spring, and I am confident that it will be passed this year", no such legislation to bring this aggregate levy into effect has yet been introduced.

Because of government inaction, Ontario municipalities continue to be denied funds that could be used to defray some of the costs of constructing and maintaining roads used as gravel hauling routes.

For example, in Manvers Township alone which is located in this riding, the amount of this non-renewable resource which was extracted in 1983 amounted to 1.66 million tonnes. This gravel represents a potential loss in revenue to the Township of $66,400, of which the Township has yet to receive one cent. The Township has passed a resolution asking the Minister of Natural Resources that a gravel levy be introduced.

The provincial government must not delay the introduction of this levy any longer. The time for action to be taken on this matter is long overdue.

Amendment made to fence act

The Line Fences Act has received a lot of comments from farmers over the past year or so. In late June a Line Fences Amendment Act was tabled in the Ontario Legislature. The Amendment is designed to try to overcome the major concerns farmers have with the present system.

The main purpose of the new legislation is to establish a new method of having appeals from awards of municipal fence viewers. Under this new method, appeals will be heard by individuals with a specialized knowledge of fencing issues, and of the traditions relating to line fences in Ontario, especially in the agricultural community, rather than by the Small Claims Court as at present.

In addition, several technical amendments in order to improve the administration of the Act at the Municipal level are included.

The Line Fences Amendment Act received first reading in June, and will remain on the order paper over the summer to allow an opportunity for interested individuals and groups to review the legislation in detail.

Copies of the Act - Bill 111 - and an explanation of the changes are available from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing. A reference copy is available in County Agricultural Offices.

Congratulations goes to Donna Bailey, our new Haliburton County Home Support Services Co-Ordinator.

Donna has had the position for over a month and has devoted herself to helping older adults through the Home Support Services; Meals on Wheels, Wheels to Meals, Transportation, Home Help, Fone-A-Friend and Friendly Visiting.

Not only has Donna obtained a hard-working convenor, Darlene McElwain for the very demanding service of Home Help, but is making herself aware of the individual needs of persons and groups in our large community and abroad. Donna, may you continue your excellent devotion toward the Services of Home Support.

The date for the Highland Queen boat cruise is Tuesday, August 7 at 2:00 p.m. We will be meeting at the Drop-In Centre at 1:30 and drive to Deer Lodge for 1:45 to board the boat. There are still some seats available for the cruise. Give us a call if you would like to join us for the one hour and 15 minute boat cruise.

The month of August will soon be arriving. Our volunteers for the card games in the month of July are doing an excellent job. However, we require persons in August for bridge on Monday, and euchre on Wednesday. The work entails preparing tables with cards and score sheets, making coffee, collecting money for coffee and prizes and cleaning-up after the social. Please volunteer a couple of hours if you are able, by contacting us at 457-2171 or 457-2941.

C.H.A.C.E. Place news

by Caroyln Bishop

As usual, C.H.A.C.E. has been humming with activity, and our calendar is so full of special events that you'll just have to drop in and check it out, and keep an eye on the classifieds.

Many visitors have taken out summer memberships, and all - especially those from larger centres - are amazed and delighted at the quality of the facilities that we offer, and that they are free to the user. Our fund-raising people have been busy ensuring this - a chuck-wagon booth at the Minden Canada Day celebrations with the help of the Bicentennial Committee netted us over $200 - a spur-of-the-moment idea made possible by a dedicated group of phonecallers and home bakers.

Our rummage sale was such a success we've decided to make it a bi-annual event, so when you do your spring and fall children's clothing turnover, bring on over those outgrown but still wearables, and we'll lay them out for sale in October and April. You can bring them in anytime, maternity clothes too, when you outgrow (in-grow?) their use. Much gratitude is due to Gayle Arnup for sharing her years of experience in this field.

This week is Insect Week at C.H.A.C.E. and I'd like to take this opportunity to make a few comments about these small creatures who share our planet. An interested adult can easily foster an attitude of wonder and delight toward nature in a child, through observing insects. We're all familiar with the pests, blackflies and mosquitoes, but what about our allies?

Dragonflies not only eat those pesky flies on the wing, but also, as nymphs in the water, gobble great quantities of mosquitoe larvae. Often while gardening I've had one or more dragonflies circling my head, emitting crunching sounds as they consume all those blackflies. Another garden friend is the ladybug, that funny-looking spotted orange beetle, who lives on aphids, mealybugs, and other garden pests.

Those fascinating fireflies - also true beetles - feed on the slugs and snails which can do so much damage to a garden. Did you know that glow-worms are the eggs, larvae, and flightless females of species of fireflies in which only the males fly?

A couple of easy insect projects for the summer are an ant colony behind glass, and "growing" a butterfly - particularly a Monarch - from caterpillar through chrysalis to adult. For lots more insect information and ideas, come to C.H.A.C.E., especially this week. See you there!

Important to provide water for dairy herds

How much attention does water availability and quality receive in your dairy nutrition program? Water is by far the cheapest and most important nutrient and the one required in the largest daily amount. Of all the nutrients, water is also the one most frequently neglected.

Dairy cattle suffer more quickly and severely from a lack of water than from a deficiency of any other nutrient. Of all farm animals, lactating dairy cows require the greatest amount of water relative to body size since milk contains 85 - 87% water. Also, an average cow's body will contain 55 - 65% water, while very fat cows may have less than 50% and very thin cows may have as much as 70% water.

Several factors can influence the quantity of water that cattle will consume. These include: (1) the ambient temperature and humidity; (2) the amount of dry matter and salt ingested; (3) breed; (4) body size; (5) milk yield; (6) water temperature; (7) moisture and protein content of the ration; (8) the presence of undesirable tastes and odours; and (9) most importantly, the availability of a continuous, clean, fresh supply of water at all times.

As the air temperature increases so does water consumption per kg dry matter intake by nonlactating cows, and water consumption per kg milk produced.

Water temperature increases the amounts of water consumed and cattle performance. In cold weather, cows will drink more water if it is warmed somewhat above the ambient temperature, however, the main benefit of warming the water is to prevent freezing.

Water consumption tends to be higher when animals are fed a diet containing high levels of salt, protein or roughage.

Moisture content in the total ration will influence daily level of water consumption. In one U.S. study, dry cows fed only hay consumer 42 Kg (93 lbs.) of water/head/day. When fed a combination of hay and silage, daily water intake dropped to 34 Kg (74 lbs.) due to the water content of the silage.

Eight week old Holstein calves will drink up to 6 Kg (13 lbs.) of water per day; a pregnant dairy heifer needs up to 32 Kg (70 lbs.); and a Holstein cow giving 36 Kg of milk per day can drink up to 91 Kg (200 lbs.) of water in a day.

A restriction on the amount of water animals receive can have a highly significant negative effect on feed intake, gains in body weight and milk production.

Restricted water intakes may be caused by: (1) foul odours and tastes in the water source; (2) an inadequate supply of water; (3) inadequate space at the watering area leading to competition among animals; (4) not providing a fresh, clean supply of water at all times; (5) fecal and urine contamination of water and watering devices; (6) improperly functioning watering devices; (7) low water temperature; (8) tingle voltage; (9) water pH outside the range of 6 - 9; (10) the presence of slime, scum and algae growth in water and on its surface; (11) frozen water and (12) a watering area that is wet and has a base that causes discomfort to the cow's feet.

Water is extremely important and quite cheap. Check today to ensure that all your animals have an adequate supply of good quality water.

A quiet celebration Saturday marked the fiftieth anniversary of Jack and Lucy Ashby. The couple, who were wed July 21, 1934, actually marked two noteworthy dates, as Saturday was also the thirtieth anniversary of their purchase of cottage property on Canning Lake.

The celebration took the form of a family reunion. Attending were their daughter, Mrs. Warren of Thornhill, sons John, who flew in for the occasion from Cape Breton, Ross and Hilary of Willowdale and Ray and Colleen of Scarborough. Also attending were six grandchildren. The family enjoyed the weekend at the Canning Lake cottage, topping off the celebration with a family dinner at PineStone Inn.

Jack and Lucy Ashby are residents of Willowdale, but since Jack's retirement 14 years ago, they have made the Highlands their summer residence.

Congratulations to the Ashby's on their double anniversary.

To Night

Soft, the shades of evening
Are drawn across the sky,
The world awaits its slumber
As God Morpheus draws nigh.
The cares that have beset us
And plagued us through the day
Now humbly bow before him,
Retreat, and steal away.
The child who laughed and gamboled
Has come at last, to rest
He lays his tousled sleepy head
Against his mother's breast.
With love her arms enfold him,
Her face in sweet repose,
Gently she murmurs to her babe,
His weary eyelids close.
A velvet night surrounds us
And stars come out to play
Look there - a million diamonds strung
Along the milky-way!
A silent peace o'ertakes us
And calms the restless earth
It stills, for now, the clamor
That will come at dawn's rebirth.
Now everywhere, the flowers
Have bowed their heads to pray
And honor the enchantment
That returns at close of day.

Our Will, Our Guarantee

The will for peace is with us,
And certainly will grow,
Encouraged by such stalwarts
As we find in our Trudeau.
It's ours to rally round them,
Ours to shape tomorrow.

But then we have this other chap,
I tell you, Folks, on oath,
He'll get you where he's going
And that's as sure as death,
That final of condition
When completely out of breath.

Discipled, Folks, to Ares,
Admiringly his boy
Will help to Armageddon,
And willing to deploy
That no win nuclear weapon
In total to destroy.

We also have these other folks,
Who tell us its foretold
And written in the scriptures
In prophesies of old.
So just sit on your fannies
Put everything on hold.

It seems there's some affinity
'Twixt the devil and the saint,
Whatever their contentions
They bear the same content.
One's forced to the conclusion
They're both of them hell bent.

Follows the millenium,
Where all is quiet and peace,
Armageddon's graveyard
Where death, Folks, has the lease,
And man's long travail ended
Striving blindly to surcease.

So will we just sit passive
Waiting for that day
Some madman drops that monstrous thing
And blows us all away.
Would thwarting Armageddon
Be in blasphemy?

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading u , down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Well readers, we are starting another week, here at Hyland Crest. I don't think we had too many guests. We are sure there weren't too many. Speaking for myself, I didn't have any.

In the chapel service Sunday night, Rev. Burgess took his interesting message from Romans Chapter 1, Verse 16, "For I am not ashamed to speak of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God on to salvation, to everyone that believes of it, to the Jew first then to the Greek."

Jessie Walters, to the hospital, took a little trip. Now she will be returning with a new plastic hip. Mary Oliver who is really quite spry, has gone to get a cataract taken from her eye.

Rev. Douglas Miller was the United Church minister here for some six years. Returned again on Sunday and the services did take, at Carnarvon, Minden and Maple Lake.

Dorothy McElwain who was on her homeward way, had a bad car accident, she can thank her maker that she is alive today.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Foster (Gary works here by the way) have a darling daughter, born the 13th of July day.

Our ladies working in the craft room, they are busy dames. They have just taken another quilt off the quilting frames.

The Ray Ushers came Monday night instead of Friday. They couldn't come Friday, they were going away. Ray is a great piano player, entertains us fine! So nice of them to come and give us some of their time.

Tuesday morning Rev. J. Smith of Haliburton Baptist Church, conducted a really impressive service in the chapel this July day. Maron Rose came again with music to play.

Doris showed us three interesting movies this Tuesday. "Steady As She Goes", "Grain Elevators" and "The Story of the St. Lawrence Seaway".

Tuesday night we were royally entertained by members of St. Paul's Anglican Church choir. Some sang low, others a little higher. The music was played on her guitar by the Debbie Vaughan girl. The way she played and they sang for us, was just out of this world.

Alton Hughes and his wife from Lindsay, came to call Sunday on his sister, Edna Cowen (who lives here by the way).

Mary Oliver is back from hospital with eye cataract removed. We hope her eye sight will be much improved.

Doris took us in the bus Wednesday night, to see the Haliburton Carnival Parade, which was a colourful sight. So many marching bands. We residents enjoyed it so much, it was really grand.

Helene Donaldson came along with sister, Margaret, too. To see that nothing we might try to do, like to get up and slip. Maybe a break of a leg or fracture a brittle hip.

Linda is on two weeks holiday. Doris is a busy gal while Linda is away. She sure knows how to handle that Hyland bus. No matter what happens you don't hear her cuss.

Amelia Good is all smiles today, I will tell you why. She is celebrating her 90th birthday, this 19th day of July.

Thursday afternoon the ladies from Lutterworth Pines brought in a nice lunch and served it up so fine. Lots of goodies on display, we thank you for coming this fine July day.

Friday morning the weatherman said the weather would be fair. So they packed us a lovely picnic lunch, we climbed in the bus and headed for Extendicare. There we picked up a few more residents, then to Lake - Side Park. Just found a nice parking place, when the clouds rolled in quite dark. Some got out to eat their lunch, others stayed within. We just got started to eat and the rain came down again. Thanks to those who tried to see that we all had food and drink. They did a good job too. As we were returning home, the sun came shining through.

The Lochlin Sour Notes came on Friday night, entertained us grand, with songs like "Moonlight Bay", "You Are My Sunshine" and "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands". They also have a fiddle player, a good one too. He can play toe tapping tunes, I am telling you. They played some sacred numbers, before they took a bow. Then, good night to all before we leave you now.

Father: "Why do you want me to call you a cab?" Five-year-old boy: "I'm running away."

As this week was turning out to be a very busy week for me due to in part by meetings to attend, visitations to different parts of our County (in this case Cardiff and Gooderham), budgetting matters to attend to and as our office was going to be short staffed, Anna Nichol and myself made a total of four calls to volunteers to staff the office and received four "Yes" responses.

Our office in the afternoon this week will be staffed by: Laura Hartwick on Monday, Mary Hannah on Tuesday, Florence Webb on Wednesday and Betty Strang on Friday. Thank you so much ladies for doing this volunteer office staffing.

Volunteer office staffing will become a much needed service this fall. As this is an equal opportunity volunteer job, men are also invited and encouraged to become office volunteers. We hope that you will phone and volunteer perhaps half a day once a week or bi-weekly to (1). be the receptionist (2) answer the phone (3) take down information from the phone calls. It is not a complicated job but a very enjoyable one. Call our office any weekday between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. if you have any questions concerning this volunteer service.

We would really appreciate your help in this area.

P.S. Hope you saw our float in the Legion parade last Wenesday night. We really enjoyed the fun we had being part of it. Have a nice day!

IN MEMORIAM

KENT: In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Jean, who passed away July 25, 1981.

No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day goes by,
That we do not think of you.

Sadly missed by Earl, Larry, Gloria, Maxine, Corbie and Jaime.

MISCIO - In loving memory of a dear brother, Petrol who was taken from us July 20, 1979.

They say memories are golden
Well, maybe that is true
But we never wanted memories
We only wanted you.

Sadly missed by sister Vera.
